

PWP Future Leaders Fellowship

While our business model hinges on having experienced senior professionals with exceptional reputations, our more junior people are the lifeblood of the Firm. We cannot be successful without fully developing the next generation to take the place of the current Partners.

At PWP, we recognize that diversity - in people and ideas - creates a vibrant and commercial environment that drives our ability to offer creative solutions for our clients. As such, we place significant importance on hiring strong leaders that embody our diverse culture and entrepreneurial spirit. We offer an exceptional platform where junior bankers are encouraged to collaborate, make positive contributions to the Firm's strategy and culture, and become future leaders.

In support of these values, we are pleased to offer the PWP Future Leaders Fellowship to first year MBA women, Black, Hispanic, and Native American candidates. The PWP Future Leaders Fellowship is awarded to candidates who exemplify the PWP spirit of leadership and are committed to a long-term career in Investment Banking. Recipients will receive $30,000* towards their tuition and fees for their spring semester, contingent on receiving and accepting a Summer Associate offer. Upon successful completion of their Summer Internship, recipients are also eligible for an additional $30,000* towards their second year tuition and fees if they receive and accept a Full-Time Associate offer.

Application Deadline: Sunday, December 9 at 11:59pm EST

To apply for the PWP Future Leaders Fellowship, please email CampusRecruiting@pwppartners.com with your resume, office preference and a 500 word essay that addresses how you have demonstrated leadership in your professional or personal experiences and will leverage your leadership skills for a career in Investment Banking at PWP. In your essay, please take into consideration the characteristics that embody the culture of the Firm.
